PDF INDEXING & MANIPULATION

Solimar Indexing Tools is a suite of PDF indexing tools for Adobe® Acrobat® 8.x or above and Reader® that provides an easy to use method for rapidly locating relevant information within PDF documents. Solimar Indexing Tools is comprised of two components: SDX Designer™ to graphically define index fields, and the SOLfinder™ plug-in user interface to search indexed documents.

Solimar Indexing Tools teams with Rubika™ and the Solimar® Print Director™ Enterprise (SPDE) to provide advanced PDF manipulation capability, including:

- Indexing Automation
- Splitting to facilitate PDF archiving
- Merging & sorting PDFs to achieve mailing discounts
- Automating finishing (paper selection & plex)
- Automating insertion (enveloping)
- Concatenation
- Adding forms and opaquing sensitive data

SDX DESIGNER

Used to define templates that identify the information in a PDF document that is to be indexed. The resulting indexes are associated with key words, such as "Account Number" or "Client Name", to facilitate the search process.

- Indexes PDF documents with searchable text
- Defines an unlimited number of index fields
- Allows index creation based on file name
- Relates index fields to other fields
- Includes predefined index formats
- Allows user defined index definitions
- Defines user assigned index field names
- Qualifies index fields prior to processing
- Tests user defined index definitions
- Includes a user-friendly GUI
- Defines report separation fields

SOLFINDER

Recognises the index fields defined by SDX Designer, allowing users to search PDF files quickly and easily using familiar key words. SOLfinder can also print portions of a report or extract pages to a separate PDF document.

- Provides rapid display of search results
- Sorts search results by page and data
- Displays individual and multiple reports in search results
- Extracts selected reports into a new PDF file
- Prints selected reports or pages
- Displays all index fields as search options
- Supports logical search criteria

SOLFUSION

Automatically indexes PDF files with the index information defined with Solimar Indexing Tools. SOLfusion can also be used to extract indexed information to an external file for use with archive solutions.

- Automatically indexes PDF documents at high speed
- Watches multiple directories to automate workflows
- Includes file name filtering capabilities
- Supports multiple indexing templates
- Embeds index information into PDF document
- Creates external XML file with extracted index field information
